Ofsted Inspection Report

Friday, 16 May 2014

Dear Parents,

I am delighted to provide you with a copy of the Ofsted Report, which is now published and on our website. The Ofsted inspection has given the school an overall grade of “Good”, with achievement, quality of teaching and leadership and management all graded as “Good”. For me, the highlight of the report is the recognition of pupil’s behaviour. To read that pupils are well mannered, courteous, concentrate well and persevere with tasks is hugely rewarding.

The report pays tribute to the children and their enjoyment of the school and their belief that it is a safe, secure and purposeful environment for learning. I was also encouraged that all the lessons observed were at least “good” reflecting the high quality teaching which impacts so strongly on pupil learning, contributing to high levels of achievement.

Again the inspection team highlighted the strong relationships, and mutual respect, which extends throughout the school.

I am really happy with the progress made by everyone involved in school, and Ofsted has provided an external validation of that progress. The main recommendations are areas we have already identified ourselves and are either working on currently, or have planned for the Autumn term. We will now build on this and strive to make Levens an outstanding school.

I hope you find this information helpful. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions regarding this report or any other area of the school.

Yours Sincerely

Mr. Foxwell
